

Northgate Information Systems

Background

Northgate Information Services are situated directly next door to the Buncefield oil depot, which at the end of 2005 exploded to cause several fires in the Northgate building – more than 200 production systems were destroyed, along with the newly refurbished call centre and email hub.

Hunts Office Furniture and Interiors provided solutions for new desk, storage, seating, office screens, reception area seating and bistro furniture, helping to re-house 350 people and a completed installation in just three weeks.

Application

Hunts Office Furniture and Interiors offered advice, project management and supply for the following works:

- Desking
- Storage
- Seating
- Screens
- Reception Area Seating
- Bistro Furniture

Benefits

Hunts Office Furniture and Interiors were able to provide Northgate with a superior service, high quality product and competitive price and successfully fulfilled delivery obligations by completing the delivery and installation in just 5 working days.
